Frequently Asked Questions

What types of exams do you offer at this facility?

We offer 3D Mammography, Ultrasound and DEXA.

Are you open late and on weekends?

Yes, we do offer evening and weekend appointments subject to availability. A prior booking must be made to secure a spot.

Why is it a female only center?

As women, our health can change constantly; from pregnancy, to menopause and age related bone loss. These changes usually require specific tests and a more detailed explanation of the findings and desired follow-ups. Our women's only centers allow us to focus on conducting these exams and providing information to the patient in a stress-free and relaxed environment.

Can someone accompany me in the waiting room or in the exam room during my exam?

Due to the current COVID-19 restrictions, patients cannot be accompanied within the center by another person unless the patient is a minor or has disabilities that require assistance. If someone is driving you to your appointment they will need to wait outside in our free on-site parking area.

Expectant mothers that wish for their significant other to be in the exam room, please call ahead.

Can my child wait in the lobby during my exam?

Children under the age of 10 are not allowed to be unsupervised in the lobby. Please contact the facility directly if you have any questions about this policy.

How will I receive my results?

Your referring doctor will receive your results typically within 24 to 48 hours and you will be contacted by your doctor to review results.

Will I receive a "lay letter report"?

With screening mammography, patients receive either a "normal lay letter", which communicates benign findings, or a "recall lay letter" informing them of a potential abnormality requiring additional evaluation.

Can my PCP refer me for breast imaging?

Absolutely!

How often should patients receive a screening mammography?

Most insurance companies will pay for a screening mammogram every 366 days.
